

The People Development
Experts

NLP Practitioner Certification

certified by INLPTA and endorsed by ILM

Neuro Linguistic Programming is described as the art and science of personal excellence. An applied psychology, NLP is used to help people achieve their goals in their work, relationships and life in general. Our NLP Practitioner course gives you a solid foundation in using NLP skills for yourself and with others to generate change and reach your potential.

Who is this course for?

- Managers and Leaders who want to achieve the results they deserve in their business, through their teams and in their own lives.
  - Those in education, health care or social work where excellent communication and working effectively with diversity and difference is essential
  - Coaches, therapists and those in training who want to be able to develop the use of NLP in their practice confidently, ethically and effectively.
  - Everyone who wants to learn more about themselves and grow and develop, this course will teach tools and practical skills to unlock your brilliance and achieve your full potential
-

You will learn:

- To generate practical well-formed outcomes, achieve them and use them to help other people and drive your business
- Work with your own and others maps of the world to create more choice and flexibility
- Have control over your emotions and empower others to do the same
- Develop the use of your senses
- Build and maintain rapport – the key to successful relationships
- Communicate clearly, effectively and with flexibility
- Use NLP change techniques to deal with unwanted habits, negative emotions, unwanted behaviours and phobias, and know when and where to use them
- Recognise how you and others store time and how to utilise it
- Let go of limiting beliefs
- Model and replicate excellence in others

Certification requirements

No previous knowledge of NLP is required to join this course. This course is certified by the International NLP Trainers Association (INLPTA) and endorsed by the Institute of Leadership and Management (ILM)

Certificates are awarded to delegates who complete the course and demonstrate understanding and application of concepts, skills and behaviours taught throughout the course and during the integration module.

Delegates will receive student membership of the ILM on joining the course and on successful completion will be entitled to membership of the ANLP and Graduate Membership of INLPTA.